

International Summer School on Human Rights and Mental Health convened by the

The University of Cagliari and the World Health Organization
22-26 August 2016, Cagliari, Italy

The first International Summer School on Human Rights and Mental Health has been initiated in response to the World Health Organization's QualityRights Project which aims to unite and empower people to improve the quality of care and promote human rights in mental health related areas. The school welcomes all people interested in mental health and human rights from the health and legal fields, civil society and academia.

PROGRAMME

- Introduction to Human Rights
Understanding of human rights and becoming an agent of change and a defender of human rights
- Mental Health and Human Rights
Developing an understanding of the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities and how it is central to respecting, protecting and fulfilling human rights of persons with psychosocial disabilities
- Mental Health Services and human Rights
Building knowledge and skills to change attitudes and practices in order to promote human rights, recovery and independent living in the community

COORDINATORS

- Dr Michelle Funk
WHO, Geneva, Switzerland
- Professor Mauro Giovanni Carta
The University of Cagliari, Italy

For more information, please contact us:
mfmore@gmail.com

The University of Cagliari gratefully acknowledges the support of the Fondazione di Sardegna & Zianda Ospedaliero

