

European Digital
UniverCity

Digital Lecture Series

Systems of Teacher Training at EDUC Universities

From an international perspective, there are significant differences in the implementation of teacher education. This series of lectures makes it possible to get to know the different systems and thus also to learn from one another. In terms of content, the lectures not only present the respective traditions of the systems of teacher training, but also current developments and challenges. Both lecturers and students are cordially invited!

The six sessions always take place between 4:15 p.m. and 5:45 p.m. CET.

25.04.2022: Prof. Andreas Borowski, Ph.D. (Universität Potsdam, Germany): Structure and Perspectives of the system of teacher training of the University of Potsdam

02.05.2022: Prof. Elio Usai, Ph.D. (Università degli Studi di Cagliari, Italy): Faculty development at University of Cagliari: experiences and starting kit design

09.05.2022: Agnès Schermann and Cécile Robin (Université de Rennes 1, France). Teachers training in France: the MEEF master

16.05.2022: Zuzana Šalamounová, Ph.D. (Masarykova Univerzita, Czech Republic): Transforming Teacher Education in the Czech Republic: Visions and Challenges

23.05.2022: Pascale Manoïlov and Agnès Leroux (Université Paris Nanterre, France): Research-based teacher training at UPN

30.05.2022: Zsuzsanna Gerner, Ph.D. (Pécsi Tudományegyetem, Hungary): New uniformed teacher training in Hungary from September 2022

Application form: <https://bit.ly/digital-lecture-series>