The image shows a small, high-resolution thumbnail of a spreadsheet document. The spreadsheet is oriented vertically and contains numerous columns and rows. Several cells are highlighted in yellow, primarily in the top section. There are also blue and green highlights scattered throughout the data area. The text within the cells is too small to be legible, but the overall structure suggests a detailed data table or report.

The image shows a small, high-resolution thumbnail of a spreadsheet. The spreadsheet has a grid of cells with various colors: yellow for headers, blue for data rows, and green for specific cells. The text within the cells is too small to read, but the layout suggests a detailed data table with multiple columns and rows.
