

Modules	Topics	Description of content/ Examples of contributions	Learning Outcomes
Get started: Let’s know the labour market.	Presentation of the entire module; Explore the labour market; Country specific regulations; Final evaluation; To go further	Important facets of the national labour market are examined in this subject, including trends, employer demands for skills, and market structure. Students will be able to identify the different approaches of job searching and will obtain important insights into the nuances of the labour market through a combination of academic understandings and country-case studies, giving them the tools they need to compete in a cutthroat, international workforce. Importance of one’s own attitude and behaviour towards job search is also emphasised.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">Analyse country-specific factors influencing the labour market.Understand and interpret regulations for international internships and jobs in the different countries.Identify the demands of the labour market, in the student’s field of study.Knowledge of how to explore job search strategies.
Get to know yourself  (this module will be entirely developed by the University of Jaume I)	Presentation of the entire module; Understanding personal strenghts and weakness; Goal setting and strategic planning; Final evaluation; To go further	The person's reflection and awareness of their strengths, weaknesses, values, beliefs, goals, motivation and the willingness and ability to change behaviours, feelings and thoughts in response to environmental demands. Includes the terms self-efficacy, self-confidence and self-esteem	<ul style="list-style-type: none">Self-knowledge of personal strengths and weaknesses (Values, Skills, Knowledge, Experience and Context factors);Identify the training needs in the field of study and professional environment, in accordance with the demands of the labour market (module 1);Identify short, medium and long-term professional goals and the strategies to achieve them.
Get Going: Job Search Methods	Presentation of the entire module; Job seeking methods and strategies; Crafting effective CVs and Cover Letters; Interviews; Social media and Job Search; Final evaluation; To go further	Enhancing participants' confidence and competence in pursuing career opportunities in diverse European settings, this module covers essential topics like job seeking methods, CV and cover letter crafting, interview strategies, and using social media for job searches.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">Recognize the different approaches for finding a job and the process as a whole, taking both the personal competencies and professional goals into account (modules 1 and 2) .Being able to compose CVs and cover letters that are industry compliant, professional, and customised while emphasising accomplishments, experiences, and pertinent talents.Learn the abilities required to handle different types of interviews, such as online and in-person ones.Recognize the impact of social media on the employment hunt and learn job-search, networking, and personal branding tools like LinkedIn.