POLYCENTRISM AND EMPIRE: FROM ANTIQUITY TO THE 20TH CENTURY - CITIZENSHIPS, FORMS OF PARTICIPATION AND IDENTITIES IN IMPERIAL FORMATIONS

Empires have characterized most phases of world history and have been correspondingly studied and discussed in History as well as in Social and Political Sciences. In spite of the existence of a clear centre, empires, because of their dimensions, are also characterized by a strong polycentrism, necessary for an effective administration of the diverse areas included in the imperial formation.
